Our operations support over 3,100 jobs in the state and add $395M to Michigan's GDP*

CN is the largest of three Class I railroads operating in Michigan. CN's operations cross the state's Lower Peninsula with rail yards in Battle Creek, Flint, Port Huron and Flat Rock. CN also has a railcar/ locomotive repair shop in Battle Creek. In the Upper Peninsula, CN has rail yards in Escanaba and Gladstone.

One in four automobiles built in Michigan is moved on a CN train. CN has an automotive distribution facility, two CN CargoFlo® bulk handling centers as well as forest products and metals distribution facilities in the state.

The Paul Tellier Tunnel between Port Huron and Sarnia serves as the border crossing for CN trains moving between Eastern Canada and the U.S. Midwest. CN has another international crossing at Sault Ste. Marie. CN also has an intermodal facility in Ferndale, in suburban Detroit. CN hosts several Michigan Amtrak trains.

All five of CN's yards in Michigan are certified by the state as Clean Corporate Citizens (C3), recognizing Pontiac, Flat Rock, Flint, Port Huron and Battle Creek for their strong environmental performance and commitment to continual improvement. CN was one of the first transportation companies to receive the C3 designation eight years ago.

Network Investments

Over the past decade, CN has invested about US$785 million to build and maintain a safe and efficient network in Michigan and to support our supply chain partners. The program focused on bridge, tunnel and network upgrades, the replacement of rail and ties, plus maintenance of crossings, culverts, signal systems, and other track infrastructure.

Community Investments

In 2025, CN contributed to several Michigan-based organizations, including:

POPE FRANCIS CENTER CN supported the Pope Francis Center to help provide meals, supportive services, crisis response, and housing assistance to Detroit community members experiencing homelessness.

THE SALVATION ARMY CN contributed to The Salvation Army to support families facing financial hardship by helping provide holiday gifts to children during the 2025 Toy Drive and funding diapers and other essential supplies for families with young children.
